New From New York Times Bestselling Author Gary Chapman— The Five Love Languages in Action!

Love Is a Verb by Gary Chapman

Minneapolis, MN—Dr. Gary Chapman has spent his life helping people communicate love more effectively and in turn build more satisfying and lasting relationships. His book The Five Love Languages is a regular on the New York Times Best Sellers list—even after being in print for 15 years—and has made the term “love language” a part of everyday speech.

Love Is a Verb takes his teaching to the next level. Rather than a typical self-help book filled with lengthy explanations of principles, theories, and techniques, Love Is a Verb illustrates truth through forty real-life stories of people displaying love in action. These stories—written by everyday people—go straight to the hearts of readers, who often say that illustrations are the most memorable and helpful parts of their favorite books.

Some of the heartfelt and transforming stories shared include those by:

- ♥ Loretta, whose family was mended by love in action
- ♥ Faith, who learned how to love a mother who had become a stranger
- ♥ Laquita, who finally fell in love with her husband after 40 years
- ♥ Molly, who persevered in loving a child with developmental delays that others had given up on
- ♥ Kevin, who learned to go beyond fear so he could truly love his family

Yet there is more: At the end of each story, Chapman adds a “Love Lesson,” a brief message that shows readers how they can apply the same principles of the story to their own lives and relationships.

“To last for the long haul, love has to be more than something we feel,” says Chapman. “It has to be something we do—something we demonstrate concretely in our marriages and families, among our friends and acquaintances, and, yes, even among our enemies.

“That’s what this book is about.”
